Modularbank is a cloud-native banking platform designed to offer next-generation banking experiences for both retail and business banking. It allows any business to rapidly offer seamless, tailored financial services to its customers.

We believe that the best solutions are developed through teamwork and through sharing and questioning ideas. The culture at Modularbank echoes the ethos of its founders – we pride ourselves in being at the leading edge of banking innovation and for daring to push banking services into the future.

As a rapidly growing startup, we’re scaling our technical project team in Tallinn and we need a skilled Software Engineers with a can-do attitude to contribute to the success of our product.

Tasks at hand:
- Produce the specifications and writing the code for a long-term, minimum-maintenance product
- Identify problems, suggest improvements, present and share the ideas regarding your solutions
- Support and interact with international customers and vendor partners
- Optimize existing software for maximum speed and scalability
- Collaborate with other team members and internal stakeholders
- Deep dive into banking and its business logic

Role essentials:
- At least 3 years of professional experience as a Software Engineer
- Studies (BA/MA) in the field of IT or technology
- Experience in working with cloud environments like AWS
- A solid understanding of Java11+, Spring (Boot), React 16 (with knowledgeable use of ES6 and Hooks)
- Strong knowledge about relational databases like PostgreSQL
- Always thinking about security when building or running solutions
- Experience working with RabbitMQ (or other messaging queues), MyBatis, Camunda (preferred, basic process-engine knowledge is a plus)
- An organized, results-oriented, creative, and change-driving state of mind
- Excellent communication skills in English and/or Estonian

Value offer:
- Challenging, yet inspiring startup environment
- Cooperation with international multicultural organizations
- Opportunity to take ownership, get fully involved, and design your own field of work
- Freedom to make an impact, within the team and the company
- Opportunity to shape a high-performing company culture
- Highly-talented and youthful team located both in Tallinn and Berlin
- Growth in your career. How fast and how high? Depends on you 😊

Interested?
Please send your CV to jobs@modularbank.co and let’s talk!