Values and feelings that can be placed within the scope of patriotism find their reflection in various behaviours. To a large extent, defining certain behaviours as patriotic or not depends on personal beliefs, worldview and system of values.

Decide whether you consider behaviours listed below to be patriotic or not. Mark your answer by putting an “X” in a proper column (“YES” or “NO”).

YES		NO
	volunteering, e.g in a hospice or a children’s home buying a ticket while using public transport paying taxes voting in elections, e.g. parliamentary, presidential or local being open and positive to migrants serving in the army as a volunteer promoting your country abroad singing the national anthem of the state you identify yourself with on various occasions getting to know other countries (e.g while traveling) and showing respect for their cultures using public property with care and respect taking part in public celebrations of national holidays doing your best in terms of your studies buying products made in the country you identify yourself with

Watch two short films. In the table below write down examples of behaviours which are considered to be patriotic by the two speakers. Then, evaluate whether in your opinion these behaviours are patriotic or not. Mark your answer by putting an “X” in a proper column (“YES” or “NO”) of the table.
