

Teacher training in Tartu:

Introduction to EnVision Virtual Exchange Scenario template. Finding team members for your Virtual Exchange project. Working in groups

Building virtual exchange capacities in the Baltic Sea Region

October 24
University of Tartu

VE scenario template & task

Try to design a VE course together with a colleague from another partner university on the basis of template provided to you by the organizers.

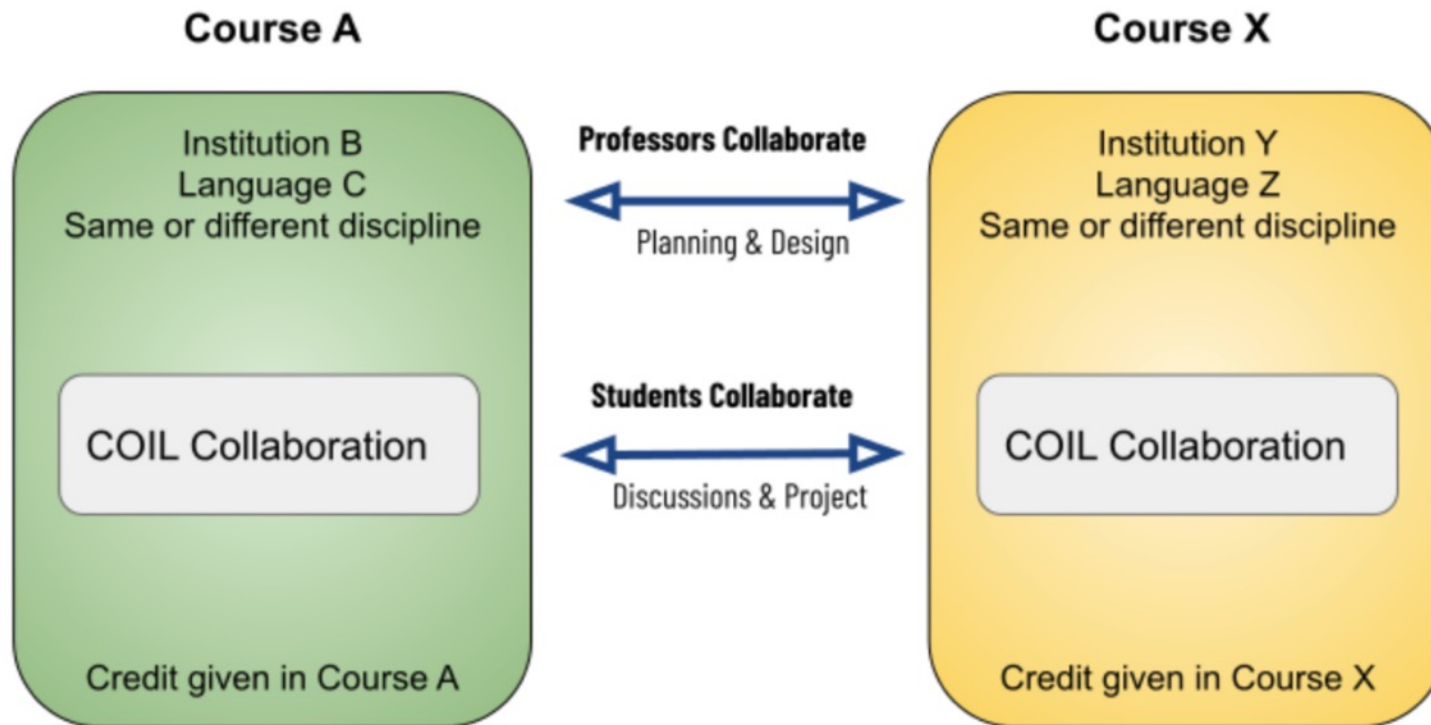

At this stage, try to find a partner who matches your profile and discuss initial ideas for the VE course.

Virtual exchange scenario template

Before filling in the template, please make sure that you consult with Appendix, which describes the definition of virtual exchange and the didactic side of organizing virtual exchange as part of the course structure.

Name of the institution	Partner 1	Partner 2
Title of the course
Brief description of the course
Course structure
Learning outcomes
Language (if applicable)
Discipline/field of research
Duration of the course (in weeks)
Rationale of virtual exchange/virtual collaboration in the course Please describe how VE will enhance the learning process of the courses? What is the added value of VE exchange in the courses for each partner?

Methodology of Virtual Exchange structure

SUNYCOIL_COIL Methodology, accessible at <https://coil.suny.edu> [Accessed on June 28, 2023]

Finding a partner – background of seminar participants

- University of Tartu 3
- Vilnius University 3
- University of Helsinki 3
- Uppsala University 2

Educational developer programme director
 professor - Master
 University Lecturer
 Adjunct Lecturer
 Deputy Head
 PhD Researcher
 Junior Researcher
lecturer
 Researcher
 Lecturer/researcher
Associate Professor

English for Academic Purposes and Research in Political Sciences

IR

I work with teacher training and am coordinator for the university teaching and learning systems.

European Studies, Political Science

Political science, Methodology

Politics - European Studies

History, research seminar, introductory courses

Quantitative research methods, Programming, Political science

International Relations, Latin American studies, EU external action political science with a focus on comparative politics and political sociology

archaeology and history, Medieval studies

Seminar participants – familiarity with VE

- I'm a beginner, this topic is new ... 8
- I have some experience and kno... 2
- I'm well-familiar with the topic. 1

